Understanding

Aipan Technologies

Aipan technologies is a software technology company that provides software development solutions to companies looking to outsource them. The company is based out of Haldwani, Uttarakhand, and aims to generate employment opportunities in the region by offering learning and growth to the young talent there.

The primary target audience for the brand would be small to medium-sized companies seeking software support, especially for product development.

The word Aipan is derived from the Sanskrit word Arpan (अर्पण) which means a devoted offering.

The literal meaning of 'Aipan' is to write or 'likhai'.
